

Real-Time Live! Terms of Reference and Code of Conduct

Code of Conduct

ACM SIGGRAPH has adopted the following principles and procedures for participants in Real-Time Live! Events as part of SIGGRAPH & SIGGRAPH Asia:

General

- We will abide by the ACM Code of Ethics.

Commitment

- We will abide by the spirit of the event to celebrate and showcase world-class real-time work.
- We will declare any use of pre-cached and any other non-real-time data in our presentations to both the Jury (in our Submissions) and Audience (during the Show itself).
- We will endeavour to deliver a real-time live presentation which is consistent with any definitions provided at Submission.

Relationships

- We will strive to work as a team to put on a quality showcase of real-time live applications for conference audiences.

Confidentiality

- We will respect all confidentiality in relation to the staging of the event (e.g. venue passwords).

Conduct

- This code is to be reviewed annually.

Real-Time Live! Committee and Jury

General

- We will abide by the ACM Code of Ethics.

Commitment

- We agree to make ourselves available for meetings.
- Jury Members agree to make time to review submissions and follow any published assessment criteria.
- We will work together to produce a world-class event that celebrates and showcases the best possibilities of real-time live.
- We will declare any and all conflicts of interest in relation to judging submissions and selecting curated works.
- We will bring any Code of Conduct violations to the attention of the RTL! Chair.

Relationships

- We will strive to work as a team to put on a quality showcase of real-time live applications for conference audiences.
- We will encourage the participation of diverse and marginalised voices.
- We will provide opportunities for career development through participation.
- We will work to promote the event to ensure there is an audience on the day.
- We will provide appropriate levels of support and management for volunteers.
- We will ensure that the work of volunteer staff complements but does not undermine the work of paid staff.
- We will not ask a volunteer to work in a voluntary capacity for more than 16 hours per week.
- We will differentiate between paid and unpaid roles in producing the event.
- We will create a safe space for all meetings and the event itself.

Confidentiality

- We agree to keep confidential the details of meetings and production planning.

Conduct

- This code is to be reviewed annually.
